

Become a Mathematics Specialist

Are you interested in taking on a leadership role as a mathematics specialist? Consider applying to Mason's Fall 2019 Cohort 100% Online Mathematics Specialist Program.

With a limited number of accepted students, you will graduate with a Master of Education in Education Leadership with a concentration in Mathematics Specialist Leader (K-8) in December, 2021.

This six-semester program is appropriate for K-12 educators and will give you a strong background in mathematics content, instructional strategies, and school-based leadership. Throughout your coursework, you will develop skills to implement instructional changes, develop curriculum and better connect with students.

Format

Students can choose:

- 100% online cohort with live classes fall 2019 only
- Campus-based with in-person and online classes start any semester

Why Mason?

- State-approved for the K-8 Mathematics Specialist Endorsement
- Aligned with the standards of the Math Specialist Standards of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics (NCTM)
- Focused on mathematics education leadership, with specific course work in mathematics content
- Experienced faculty in K-12 mathematics coaching and national/district/state leadership
- 100% online, live instruction (for fall 2019 enrollment only)

College of Education and Human Development

Example Careers

Math specialist
Title 1 math resource teacher
Math coach
Math interventionist
Math lead
District math supervisor
Math department chair

Tuition Discounts Now Available

The College of Education and Human Development offers generous university-approved discounts for current educators meeting specific eligibility requirements

- For more information or to apply, go to cehd.gmu.edu/discounts
- Contact us if you have questions regarding your eligibility

Contact

cehdgrad@gmu.edu or call 703-993-2892 for more information.
Apply today at www2.gmu.edu/admissions-aid/apply-now